Developers Purchase Monte Vista Ranch

Land Sold for $10 Million; 'Total' Community is Planned

Development of the Monte Vista Ranch approached reality last week with the sale of the property to Carl Olson for $10 million.

The 3,365-acre plot, straddling both sides of State Highway 94, east of Spring Valley, is planned for a "totally controlled" community.

Plans include construction of some 6,000 homes on the site, a landscaped, 100-acre industrial park and a 36-hole golf course.

Possibilities include the location of the proposed second campus for Grossmont College.

Olson plans to change the name of the property to Rancho San Diego and he already has organized a new corporation, Rancho San Diego Development Co., to undertake development of the community.

Raleigh Kirkendall, former San Diego general contractor, has been named vice president of the new corporation and will be in charge of the San Diego operations.

Olson, who heads Olson Construction Co. of Lincoln, Neb., is acquiring the ranch from Monte Vista Properties, a partnership of Los Angeles and Beverly Hills investors, for a price of $10,074,000.

Meanwhile, three parcels of land have been pared from the ranch, including 100 acres for a subdivision along Jamacha blvd., and 40 acres for another subdivision.

The new community, planned eventually for 25,000 or 30,000 residents, will develop over 10 to 15 years, according to Kirkendall.

The construction will probably result in an expenditure of about $1 billion, he said.

Zoning is proposed for a light industrial area, at least 100 acres for apartment construction, 100 acres for cluster housing, and a major shopping center.

"We will be creating a community with many of the same features as Rancho Bernardo," Kirkendall said.

COLLEGE POSSIBLE

The ranch site had been under consideration as a location for a new community college by the Grossmont District's site selection committee.

Dale Randles, chairman of that committee, said the new owner is "very interested" in selling the needed land, from 150 to 165 acres, to the district.

Kirkendall said a community college would fit in very well with plans for Rancho San Diego.

The committee continues to consider other sites, however.

WORK TO START

First development work is scheduled to begin within the year, with plans to start the 280-acre, 36-hole golf course.

Kirkendall said the course would have a range of 6,900 to 7,300 yards, long enough for championship play.

The planned course will be located about one mile from the Cottonwood Golf Course.

The property will be master planned by VTN engineering firm of San Diego and the architectural and engineering firm of Bryant, Jehle, Jeffries and Phillips of La Mesa.

Other builders would be invited to participate in the overall development, Kirkendall indicated.

SURPRISE TO DISTRICT

The sale had been contemplated for almost a year. In addition to Olson, the Maccos Corp., a worldwide construction firm, had been dickering for the property.

Kirkendall negotiated the transaction in 10 days.

The sale of the land is contingent upon a requirement that the transaction must close escrow by July.

The sale came as a surprise to the Otay Water District, which services that area.

The district had given written assurances to the previous owners that it could provide needed services, Kirkendall said.

The proposed South Bay Freeway eventually will cut through the ranch.

Hospital Election — Is it Moral?

The nine and a quarter million dollar expansion program of the Grossmont hospital will come to a vote in March.

Grossmont trustees, through its advisory board, are proposing the election to raise funds for 164 new beds and a new 126,500 square-foot wing with a target of 500 beds somewhere in the future. There are 216 beds now.

The financing will be through revenue bonds.

Every resident of the 750 square-mile district is entitled to vote — provided he has lived in the district for 90 or more days and has registered.

Today is the last day to register.

Locally, voters may register at the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce and in Spring Valley at 3546 Bancroft dr. and 1434 Janice st.

Twice before hospital trustees have called elections and twice they failed to achieve the necessary two-thirds majority. Under standard procedures, the two-thirds vote is required before property can be encumbered. The two-thirds majority rule was used to protect property owners who carry a tremendous cost burden of local government. The March election has been rigged to require only a simple majority — that is, 50 percent plus one.

Spectre of the old Mattoon Act by which thousands of area residents lost their property through unconscionable taxes persists today and a change in the two-thirds majority vote on bonds is viewed by many residents with suspicion and alarm.

The change in majority requirements was arranged by the Grossmont District by developing a joint powers agreement with the County of San Diego.

Under this arrangement the election is for establishing a Joint Powers Authority. If this is approved, a separate entity will be established with three or five directors. These members will be chosen by Grossmont trustees and must be approved by the County Board of Supervisors.

The Joint Powers Authority will sell general obligation bonds to finance the hospital improvement. These bonds will be backed by the taxing authority of the hospital district.

The Hospital District will then pay the JPA, as rent, the amount required to pay the principal and interest for that year. Property in the district will bear the cost of the "rent" as the tax rate control is vested in the hospital district. By this arrangement the district circumnavigates the two-thirds majority rule. But property in the district is encumbered by the JPA bonds just the same as though a two-thirds majority election had passed. The only difference is that it takes less voters to approve the expenditure.

Practically, it is a device for the directors to give voters what voters twice said they did not want. Morally, it is about as cute as a three-dollar bill.

By using the joint powers agreement at this point in time suggests that government agencies cannot be denied. What is to keep them from seeking other financing loopholes if this is not successful? Will the next step be to find a thirty-five percent formula, if one could be conjured up?

Keeping faith with the public is the most important thing Grossmont District trustees have to offer. Members should guard that trust well.

In fairness, it should be pointed out that a County-City joint powers agreement was used to finance the San Diego stadium.

The important point with the stadium project is that the JPA contrivance was not used to overcome prior rejections.

WIRES TO GO UNDERGROUND

Utilities Hearing Set For Palm Street Project

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A public hearing for the formation of an underground utility district along Palm st. in Lemon Grove will be held by the County Board of Supervisors at 9:30 a.m. on Jan. 27.

The establishment of the district is recommended by the county's underground utilities advisory committee from Imperial ave. to the vicinity of Troy st.

The undergrounding would be accomplished during an improvement of Palm st. with the San Diego Gas and Electric Co. contributing $110,000 to the job under Public Utilities Commission authorization.

County Engineer Howard Taylor reported to the board that at a meeting in Lemon Grove the property owners approved, by a large majority vote, to ask for the holding of the public hearing.

The property owners will not have to pay for the undergrounding of utilities in the public right of way, but will have the responsibility of installing their individual underground lines.

Taylor said this cost will ordinarily run from $185 to $200, although this could obviously vary widely.

Supervisors asked for a report from the county staff on how priorities for undergrounding are progressing.

Setting priorities would seem somewhat difficult until the county can find out how the property owners will react.

Former Grove Businessman Back to Stay

Bob Greggs is back in Lemon Grove.

Greggs came to Lemon Grove from Florida in 1966 and purchased a commercial building at 7634 Broadway. He opened a furniture store there.

Later, in spite of a thriving business, he closed the business and made a teenage center in the building. The center was church centered.

He sold the building about a year ago and returned to Florida to dispose of his varied business interests there.

Now he is back — with his wife Claudia and his teenage son and daughter.

Now he is seeking another business or business property to buy. He said he is back in Lemon Grove to stay.

LG Fire Report

The Lemon Grove Fire Department answered one rescue call and four fire calls for the week of Dec. 29 - Jan. 5.

The one rescue call was on Jan. 4 at about 10:56 a.m., when rescuers went to 3640 Costa Bella, Space 3. A son-in-law of Mrs. Susan Samdahl, about 65 years old, had found her on the floor. On questioning, Mrs. Samdahl said she had fallen to the floor on Jan. 1 and had been unable to get to her feet.

What she had done for food and water during her time on the floor is a mystery.

There were two fire calls on Dec. 29: Firemen went to 7895 Bryan ct., about 4:06 a.m., after a woman phoned the fire station she saw the house on fire at that address.

The man living there was quite disturbed, and said there was no fire there, that it was a false alarm, and he said he was to call the Sheriff's office and report on the incident.

And at about 2 p.m. firemen went to 8242 Mt. Vernon, where the house of Laura Drew was cleared of smoke, someone having left the house with food burning on the stove.

On Dec. 30 at about 3:49 p.m. firemen went to 8301 Mt. Vernon, the 2-story home of Nancy Roberson, where children playing with matches had set fire near the house. There was no damage.

On Jan. 1, the Lemon Grove Fire Dept., in the mutual-aid pact, assisted the La Mesa Fire Dept. for three hours in a 12-acre brush fire at Eastridge and Quarry rd.

Health Dept. Bans Trailer Storage

The County of San Diego Department of Public Health said that as of January 1, it would be illegal for trailers and mobile homes to be stored on vacant lots in unincorporated areas of the county. The ordinance outlawing this storage of trailers was passed by the County Board of Supervisors last July after an eight-month survey of the problem.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said that increasing numbers of trailers have been parked on vacant lots and many of them have been occupied without proper facilities for sanitation and garbage disposal.

"According to the ordinance, trailers and mobile homes may now be stored only on property where the owner of the trailer lives, or in a mobile home park.

Dr. Askew said that requirements for the occupancy of trailers are most stringent because of the sanitation problems involved. He said the law limits occupancy of trailers to mobile home parks where sewer connections and proper sanitary facilities are available.

Temporary occupancy, however, may be authorized by the

CONSOLIDATION IS THEME

Reorganization of County Government Urged By Chief Administrator Morey

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — A far-reaching reorganization of the structure of county government has been recommended to the Board of Supervisors by Chief Administrative Officer Fred J. Morey.

Morey said the board should attempt to bring the structure out of the 19th century, to perform its 1970 functions.

What the chief officer would like is a consolidation of county departments by function under chiefs reporting directly to him. He said in his letter to the board that he is looking for increased efficiency and a structure that will allow the board to perform its main function, that of setting policy. Reorganization has been a popular subject. Supervisor Jack Walsh has his own ideas, many of which parallel Morey's.

The County Grand Jury said in its final report that new ways are needed, but without specifying.

The county's efficiency study group, a committee of top men in industry, is expected to have its own report out in a short time.

The county is even in the process of forming an ad hoc committee to check on its own many boards, committees and commissions.

An immediate conflict with Supervisor De Graff Austin is apparently contained in the report.

Morey says that in his opinion, only the board members and the district attorney should hold elective positions in county government.

The voters of the county soundly defeated a proposal for the positions of tax collector, treasurer, recorder, and county clerk to be made appointive last year at the polls. Austin co-authored the opposition argument.

(Other elective officials are the sheriff, assessor, and all judges.)

Morey said the supervisors should realize the total job of continuing county functions within a changing structure will take several years. Both voter and legislative approval will be needed, he said.

Walsh says the offices of the marshal and the sheriff should be merged, a position long held by the supervisors with a notable lack of success. One year the board could not even find a local assemblyman or senator to even introduce such a bill.

The county is already moving in the direction of departmental consolidation. Former county engineer David K. Speer now heads the public works agency which includes engineering, public works and special districts functions.

Morey would group other functions within eight categories under an agency head or coordinator.

He said the county charter adopted in 1932 and based on the state constitution provisions that pre-date 1900 is no longer sufficient.

"It has become apparent to all of us that these 19th century organizational concepts are no longer appropriate for the 20th century problems that we must solve," Morey said.

"In making these proposals, I wish to make it clear that it does not imply any criticism of county employees.

"In actual fact, county employees have acted admirably in serving public needs while handicapped by our existing form of organization."

Copley Man Frank Price Seeks 'George'

The crime rate in San Diego has increased alarmingly, Frank L. Price, consultant for Copley Newspapers, told men of the Lemon Grove Christian Church at their breakfast Saturday.

Speaking on the topic "Where's George?" he urged Lemon Grove citizens to become involved in community problems relating to law enforcement, good government, and youth activities.

"We must find the mythical 'George' and put him to work," said Price who is a former FBI executive. He explained that when there is a tough job to do everyone says: "Let George do it." But the problem is finding this person who is willing to become involved and act for the good of our city and neighbors.

Price said that after a career in Federal law enforcement he wished he could report that the war against crime and Communism has been won. Instead he said that he was "worried, troubled, and concerned" about the many tentacles of crime which threaten everyone today. He specifically expressed alarm regarding multiple crimes of terror, crime in the streets, crime on campus, crimes committed by juvenile offenders, drug victims, and the inroads of organized crime.

Part of the answer was given as community involvement. Citizens must take an interest in their local schools and churches, participate in the election process, work actively with youth groups, and demand the highest standards of honesty and integrity for law enforcement and all levels of government.

In addition, Lemon Grove church men were told that in order to be good neighbors they must become good Samaritans who are willing to work for the good of their community and help people in time of trouble and distress.

Price served as chief of the Criminal Section in Washington under J. Edgar Hoover for seven years. Subsequently, he was the special agent in charge of the FBI Field Divisions at San Diego, San Francisco and Honolulu.

Church Says Peace Is Imperative

A message on "Peace and War" issued by The Christian Science Board of Directors terms peace "a stark imperative for humanity's survival," and looks toward practical efforts to use "the full resources of man's God-given intelligence" for solutions to global problems.

The five-member Board of Directors made the statement on behalf of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston Massachusetts, and member churches of the Christian Science denomination in 58 countries.

"Peace is more than a promise. It is the creative purpose of God accepted in the mundane affairs of men. It is the structure of things as they are actually meant to be."

"Throughout history it has been assumed that war is inevitable. Conflict seems to be built into the very foundations of the physical universe. A human race trapped in a natural order at war with itself might well seem doomed to ultimate self-destruction. And today the poised instruments of total war suggest this doom as an imminent threat."

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — When will I get the forms I need to file my 1969 income tax return?

A — Taxpayers will receive their forms by mail around the first of the year. Extra copies of the forms and instructions will be available at most local banks and post offices and all IRS offices in January for those needing them.

Note that in the forms package you will receive in the mail are several additional forms besides the basic one-page Form 1040. These are provided for your convenience in case you need them.

We estimate that 31 million taxpayers will only need the one-page Form 1040, while 22 million other taxpayers will need to attach only one additional form.

Q — How do I go about raising my estimated tax declaration? The last few months business was better than I expected.

A — The adjustment can be figured on the worksheet you used to compute your initial estimated tax declaration and payment. If you have misplaced your copy, contact your local IRS office.

When you make the adjustment in your estimated tax liability, don't forget that the surcharge rate is 10 percent for 1969. The worksheet shows the surcharge rate as 5 percent, which was accurate when the forms were printed a year ago. After you have recomputed your estimate, your January 15 installment payment should be made for the increased amount.

Q — I'm having some dental work done before the end of the year. Can I deduct this as a medical expense on my 1969

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

In our travels through Baja California last week we noticed a sign on the road that read "Camino Ancho." Would you please explain the meaning of the sign? Also, would you confirm that the speed zone signs in Baja California are reflected in kilometers per hour and not miles per hour?

"Camino Ancho" means "Wide road." When the highway changes from two lanes to three or four lanes you may see the sign "Camino Ancho." Signs like this are seen on most two lane roads in Baja California that lead into the Tijuana-Ensenada toll road.

Yes, it is true that the speed zone signs south of the border are reflected in kilometers per hour. They are normally abbreviated as "k.p.m."

The uninformed "norteamericano" will, on occasion, violate the speed limit in Mexico by not converting the k.p.m. to m.p.h. If you should be driving frequently below the border, it may be best for you to have a handy conversion chart.

Woody Allen Comedy Livens Globe Stage

A family of American tourists forced to hide in our embassy behind the Iron Curtain provides the comic ingredients in "Don't Drink the Water."

The Woody Allen comedy is being performed on stage at the Old Globe Theatre, Balboa Park, nightly except Monday through February 8.

Chased by Communist secret police for taking forbidden photographs of missile installations, the family seeks asylum in the American Embassy. Proclaiming their innocence, they decide to use American ingenuity in an attempt to escape their predicament.

"Don't Drink the Water" was staged by producing director Craig Noel. Peggy Kellner is responsible for the setting and costumes.

Performances are "Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday at 8 p.m., Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. Sunday matinees will be staged at 2 p.m. on January 25, February 1 and February 8.

Grateful Dead, Sons, In Saturday Concert

The Grateful Dead will head a three-act bill at the Convention Center Saturday night, their first San Diego appearance since the Mother's Day festival at Aztec Bowl.

The Dead, who come alive when they appear in concert, have also appeared here at the old Hippodrome and at the nearby Del Mar Equinox Festival, both in 1968.

In each appearance, the Dead outplayed any of the acts that also appeared, including groups the caliber of the Sons, Quicksilver, Taj Mahal, Buddy Miles, Canned Heat, Santana, Chicago, Lee Michaels and the Youngbloods.

The Sons, as a matter of fact, will get another chance, as they'll appear in place of earlier-scheduled Savoy Brown. Also scheduled is AUM, making it an all-San Francisco bill.

The Dead don't have any hit records, and it's unlikely they ever will — their sound is geared to concerts, a live, hard-driving sound with long periods of group exploration.

A "song" is likely to last

10, 20, or 60 minutes, depending on the vibrations. Different melodies may melt into one another so the band might shift gears without slurring a note.

They might start with "Saint Stephen" and run through a couple of numbers, and finish with "Turn On Your Love Light," all without stopping or even slowing down.

Needless to say, the excitement that builds and accompanies these sessions is all but impossible to capture on record, leaving many photograph fans cold on the Dead.

The best attempt is their latest, a two-album set called "Live Dead." It features a long jam covering sides two and three.

The Sons, formerly the Sons of Champlin, are old favorites in the area, following a number of successful appearances, including stints at San Diego State (for free) at UCSD, and at the Equinox Festival.

They feature a horn section that serves to drive the group along its merry way.

AUM will be making their area debut, but has had successful appearances at the Fillmore West. Their album, AUM, is a frequently requested item on KPRI.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. concert are $3.50, $4 and $4.50, and are on sale at the Civic Theater Box Office, all Highlander and Metro agencies.

Dance Is Friday

Square Eighters Square Dance Club will hold its annual "White Elephant" Dance on Friday.

The Special Events chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pasek, have planned a fun-filled evening which will include installation of officers for the next 6 months. There will be refreshments and prizes too!

All square dancers are invited to attend and be sure to bring a "white elephant" for exchange.

Country Stars Due For Show

A shower of country music stars will spotlight the Country Music Spectacular to be held at the Civic Theatre Saturday, January 17. There will be two shows at 7 and 9:45 p.m.

Country music greats will include Sonny James and his Gentlemen, Connie Smith and the Sundowners, Conway Twitty and the Twitty Birds and the Compton Brothers.

James is perhaps best known for his multi-million selling record "Young Love". In the past four years every single record he has released has been a number one national hit.

That accomplishment is almost unheard of in the world of country music. He recently recorded the first live record album recorded in the Astrodome in Houston, Texas.

Connie has achieved practically instant stardom in the country music ranks starting with her first song recorded "Once A Day", and already has eight albums in release during the past three years.

Conway Twitty will be making his first San Diego appearance. His acceptance by country music fans is shown by the fact that three recent singles have been number one on the country charts. "Next In Line", "Darling You Know I Wouldn't Lie" and "I Love You More Today".

The Compton Brothers are both talented singers and comedians and have been bringing fresh laughs and humor to the country music scene. Their current hit "Charlie Brown" is presently climbing the country music charts at a rapid pace.

The show, now one of the most elaborate entertainment productions in the world, began 25 years ago in Milwaukee. The show was launched at the State Fair Coliseum by 35 people, including skaters, producers and a few technicians.

The 1970 show format is a salute to the show's silver anniversary in a Happy Birthday Happy Holiday theme. Tickets, priced at $5.50, $3, $4, $3 and $2, are handled through all Highlander Men's Stores, Metro Ticket Agencies and the Arena Ticket Office.

HARLEM GLOBETROTTERS' MEADOWLARK LEMON WILL TEAM WITH HARRISON STEPTER AT SPORTS ARENA FOR JOURNALISTIC SOCIETY'S SCHOLARSHIP FUND.

Comic Globetrotters Play Basketball For News Scholarships

One of the big reasons why the Harlem Globetrotters are better and funnier this basketball season is Harrison Stepter, a 6-3, 180-pounder who formerly starred for Michigan State's team. Stepter, as usual, is noisy, frolicsome Meadowlark Lemon.

Stepter will make his first appearance in San Diego with the Trotters Friday night, January 16, at 8 when the magicians of the court take on their traveling buddies, the Jersey City Reds, at the Sports Arena. The game is sponsored by the San Diego Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi as a benefit for its scholarship fund.

They say it was inevitable that Stepter would wind up with the Trotters. The loose-jointed rookie had the "moves" of a Globetrotter almost since his basketball days at McKinley High School in St. Louis, where he made the All-City and All-District teams and won honorable mention on the All-Star quintet.

When Harrison reported to the Trotters' camp last October following glowing scouting reports, general manager George Gillett shook his head in disbelief.

"This young man can do everything with a basketball," Gillett beamed. "I believe we may have the makings of another great clown in this young man. He has amazing hands and lots of natural talent."

Quick as a cat despite his 180 pounds, Stepter was a two-time Junior College All-American at Moberly JC in Missouri, leading his team to the JC tournament championship in 1966 and '67. He was Moberly's leading scorer and a unanimous All-Tournament choice both years.

Dance Class Opens

The Paradise 8 Square Dance club is sponsoring a beginner's class Monday at 8 p.m. at Perry School, 6195 Ranger rd., Paradise Hills.

The class will be open for new enrollments for three weeks. The cost is 50c a class with Buzz Brown calling. Contact may be made with the group at 479-2173 or 427-6940.

Coconut Drop Cookies

Make them by combining 3/4 cup sweetened condensed milk, 1/2 pound shredded coconut, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla and 1 cup slivered almonds. Drop by teaspoons onto a well-buttered cookie sheet. Bake at 300 degrees for 10 minutes.

Stepter was a regular on the Michigan State hoop team for two years in the rugged Big Ten. On occasions he was warned to forget the funny stuff and play more straight basketball.

The Trotters will bring another outstanding variety show to town with them this month. Tickets are on sale at the Sports Arena box office, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Lichtenstein's 'Pop' Haystacks Go On Display

Haystacks, seven original color lithographs created by Roy Lichtenstein at Gemini G.E.L., Los Angeles, between January and July 1969, will be featured in an exhibition at The Fine Arts Gallery of San Diego, Balboa Park, January 9 through February 20.

These works are lent anonymously. A painting, Haystacks, by Lichtenstein, lent by Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Rubin, Minnesota, will also be in the show.

Roy Lichtenstein and pop art are synonymous in the minds of the art public. During the 60's pop art achieved major recognition and the artist received international fame.

His greatest success came with pop art, based on commercial popular printed sources such as Sunday comics. Lichtenstein was recently featured in a major exhibition at The Guggenheim Museum, New York.

The works on view at The Fine Arts Gallery were inspired by a series produced by the French impressionist, Claude Monet in the early 1890's, in which the artist set out to record the change of light on a static subject, haystacks.

Lichtenstein sees his lithographs as corollaries to Monet's paintings. The lithograph series begin in brilliancy and end in darkness.

Dot patterns and degrees of readability of the haystack images vary within the series. The artist has maintained Monet's time sequence. Primary colors and black provide the color scheme for the lithograph.

The Gallery is open to the public Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Sunday 12:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. It is closed Mondays.

Walton's 50 Leads Helix To 110-68 Tourney Win

After beating everybody in sight in San Diego, Helix' magnificent basketball team set their sights on Los Angeles area teams in last week's Covina Tournament.

They made it look easy, as Bill Walton led them to five straight wins and the tourney title.

The final win came Wednesday night, as Walton led the Scots past Pasadena High, 110-68. In that game, Walton set tournament one-game records with marks of 50 points and 34 rebounds.

Walton's spurt erased his previous single-game high and school record of 46 points against Castle Park last month. The total also erases the Grossmont League one-game mark, 47 by Granite Hills Tim Doerr.

The county record is 60 points, set by St. Augustine's Tom Shaules. The 5-7 guard also had an effort of 53 points in his career.

Walton's 129 points in the five games was also a tourney mark and helped him to be selected as the event's Most Valuable Player and one of the all-tourney team. Two other Highlanders joined Walton on that team, guard Mike Dupree and forward Mike Honz.

Competing in the premiere holiday prep tourney in the Southland, Walton opened scouts' eyes with his accuracy of 18 of 24 shots from the floor and 14 of 16 free throws.

The win also put Helix' win string, covering two seasons, at 31. Mount Miguel won 35 straight in 1967-68.

In Pasadena, Helix faced a rival that had run up a 12-2 record and entered the tour-

Sports Beat

CHAMPS' GUARD — Monte Vista guard Gary Earle scores a fast break basket with no opposition. Earle helped his team to the Newport Harbor Optimist Tournament championship over Christmas vacation. In the finale, the Monarchs beat Antelope Valley, 55-51, as Earle potted 11 points. Teammate Bill Belander led the winners with 12.

Monarchs Take Title

Monte Vista used their speed and mobility to beat Antelope Valley's stalling tactics and win the Newport Harbor Optimist Tournament championship last week.

The Monarchs, led by Bill Belander and Gary Earle, beat the Rovers, 55-51.

Belander scored 12 points and Earle added 11. Dave Borgardt had 14 for the losers.

Dan Heien, Jack Cross and Jim Bristol each had eight points for the Monarchs in the slowed-down, low-scoring game.

Monte Vista found themselves down by two at the quarter, then spurred to a 17-8 advantage in the second eight minutes to lead by seven.

Antelope Valley cut their margin to a point by the end of the third quarter before the Monarchs could put the game away.

Baseball Writers Dinner Date Set

SAN DIEGO — The date has been set for this city's second annual Baseball Writers Dinner — and it is open to all sports fans.

The San Diego chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America announced that its pre-season dinner will be held April 6, the eve of the San Diego Padres' home opener against the Atlanta Braves.

Besides special guests from the entertainment world, members of the San Diego National League team will be introduced to all in attendance.

Local chapter members of the BWAA will present awards to the Padres' most valuable player and outstanding rookie for 1969.

Entertainment and site of the dinner will be announced at a later date.

Ticket information is available through Paul Court, Sports Department, San Diego Evening Tribune. Phone 234-7111 ext. 254.

NOTICE

The Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin do NOT subscribe to any outside news service for coverage of area sporting events.

Word has reached us of a group of high school students who have formed a news service and publicly declared they will be taking over the sports reporting for our papers and two others.

A check with the editors of both the other papers revealed that NONE of us have subscribed, nor intend to subscribe, to any such service and any claim to the contrary is fraudulent misrepresentation.

Jasmine Is Feature

AGUA CALIENTE — Riding the crest of its best seasonal opening in several years, Caliente will attempt to keep the momentum going next weekend by heading up the two-day session with its first handicap event of 1970.

The Jasmine Handicap should bring together a high-calibre band of middle distance stars, and if he accepts Jerry Wilson's Cache Valley will have a chance to make amends for disappointing in a sprint last Sunday.

He heads the list of invitees, which includes Maintenance fresh from a win over the same course, and Drafty, whose most recent effort was a 1:40 1/5 clocking for a mile and 70 yards.

Others being offered weights are Chief Bowl, Follow Along, Gina Gale, Market Ruler, Pasha's Virtue, Ruckadoo, Tail Bone, Tenth Legion, Tudor Lover and Pretty Smooth.

Water Safety Classes Begin

Classes in water safety instruction, life saving, exercise and swim, beginners swimming and water adjustment will begin this week at Mission Beach Plunge, the San Diego Recreation Department has announced.

All instruction is free for the price of pool admission, according to Bill Lucas, program supervisor. Water safety and life saving applicants must phone the City Aquatics Headquarters in Mission Bay Park on 224-2439 to register; all others need only appear at the time of the first class. The schedule:

Women's exercise and swim. Monday and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to noon; second class Tuesday from 7-9 p.m.

Elementary School beginners and advanced beginners swimming. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 3:30-5 p.m.

Water Safety Instructor program. Thursdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to noon; second class Saturdays 10 a.m. to noon.

Junior and Senior Boys and Girls Life Saving. Thursdays from 7-9 p.m.

Water Adjustment. (25 years) Tuesdays 10 a.m. to noon.

Totems, Canucks Visits Called Vital Gulls Games

The San Diego Gulls play two important games this weekend, facing the Seattle Totems tomorrow night at the Sports Arena, then entertaining the Vancouver Canucks on Sunday night.

These two games open a six-game stretch during which the Gulls will face Seattle and Vancouver three times each.

During this stretch, the Gulls will be trying to close ground on first place Vancouver, and trying to keep the fast-charging Totems behind them. Seattle started very slowly this season, but they have been very hot in the last month or so.

"This is a tough schedule for us," said Gulls General Manager Coach Max McNab, "but these are teams we have to beat. These six games will be big ones for us."

The Gulls played twice last week, losing 6-1 to Portland in a showdown game for second spot, then coming back Satur-

YOUNGEST ENTRY — Aly Trompas, National Junior Golf Champion of San Diego, will be the youngest entry in the third annual Andy Williams San Diego Open, Jan. 27 to Feb. 1, at Torrey Pines.

F&GA Program Mostly Laughs

From an entertainment standpoint, the San Diego County Fish and Game Association appears to be putting its best foot forward tonight in the Balboa Park War Memorial Building when the 1970 series of monthly meetings will be launched at 7:30 with last year's scene stealers on hand to whoop it up.

It will be the first meeting to be presided over by the club's newly elected president, Sam Weisenberg. Past president Lee Rodwell will moderate the entertainment program, featuring experts from the local chapter of California Varmint Hunters.

Among guest speakers will be Fletcher Diehl, president of the local varmint hunters, and he is bringing along for support Bert Hambley, Dennis McQuerry, and Dick Feizer, the renowned cougar hunter.

Selected outdoor movies also will be shown, one of which should be of special interest to scattergunners. It is entitled, "Exet Well."

Initiations are extended to all sportsmen.

DOING SOMETHING WRONG — Auto traffic deaths for the first two months of 1969 were four percent higher across the nation than in 1968 — 7,470 compared to 7,160. January, 1969 deaths, numbering 3,860, were the highest for any January in history.

Trompas Enters Williams Open

SAN DIEGO — U. S. National Junior Champion Aly Trompas, 17, of San Diego will be the youngest entry in the third annual Andy Williams San Diego Open Golf Tournament at Torrey Pines Course, Jan. 27-Feb. 1 — and he may also be the only amateur competing.

Trompas earned an exemption from qualifying by winning the City Junior Championships last June.

Without an exemption, amateurs have a slim chance to survive qualifying on Jan. 26 at North Torrey Pines and Carlton Oaks Country Club against an expected field of 200 talented professionals.

Trompas' record this year boasts far more qualifications than having won the City junior title with scores of 72 and 74 over the Balboa Park layout.

His greatest accomplishment, of course, was winning the U.S.G.A. Junior Championships last August in Spokane with a 3 and 1 final-round victory over 1968 champion, Eddie Pearce, of Temple Terrace, Fla.

Aly also was runner-up in both the Junior World Tournament at Torrey Pines and the local City Amateur Tournament for men at Balboa. He won the Southern California junior title this year too.

Currently competing in the Orange Bowl International Junior Tournament in Coral Gables, Fla., Aly warmed up for the event by shooting a 66 at Stardust last week. His best score at Torrey Pines is a 70.

Nicklaus To Defend Title

SAN DIEGO — Jack Nicklaus will defend his title and nearly 50 of the host's celebrity friends will frolic on fairways and greens in the third renewal of the annual Andy Williams San Diego Open, Jan. 27-Feb. 1 at Torrey Pines G.C.

The big, six-day golfing extravaganza begins with two days and 36 holes of Pro-Amateur competition on both North and South courses.

Then, Thursday morning, Jan. 28 — when the fun and games have ended — Big Jack Nicklaus, the long-hitting former University of Ohio State star, will take on 143 of his tour brethren in the 72-hole $150,000 Open he captured last February with a four-under-par 284.

Top challengers expected here are Frank Beard (top money winner in 1969), Billy Casper and Gene Littler (the hometown favorites), U. S. Open Champion Orville Moody (also 1969 Player of the Year)

Let Our Girls Serve You

Recreation to Some But My Way of Life

By Chuck Curtis

Have you ever wondered what a sports writer does with his spare time?

If so, my schedule over the recent New Years holiday and the past weekend may help you to understand the "strange breed of cat" a little better.

The session actually got underway on Tuesday evening when we watched The Peach Bowl Game from rain soaked Atlanta, Georgia.

West Virginia dominated play and controlled the ball through most of the game. They managed to slither and slide through number-obliterating mud to outscore South Carolina 14-8.

After a regular 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. working day Wednesday we took time to watch the Astro Bowl Bonnet Bowl Game. This was a one-sided contest as Houston did everything right while Auburn never got untracked. The results showed Houston the winner, 36-7.

The fun got underway at 10:45 New Years Day when we watched the nation's number one team, Texas, down a stubborn Notre Dame team 21-17 in the Cotton Bowl.

That game was followed by the Rose Bowl Game which saw mighty Michigan defeated by the University of Southern California 10-3.

Toward evening we got a chance to see the team that protested the naming of Texas as number one, the Nittany Lions of Penn State. They faced a favored Missouri team and came away the victors, 10-3.

Friday was another normal work day at the paper and then, in the evening, we watched Lou Alcindor lead his Milwaukee Bucks to their first National Basketball Association win over the league leading New York Knicks. (Would you believe I forgot the Score?)

Saturday was another good day as we watched the South edge the North 24-23 in the American Bowl Game.

San Diego State quarterback Dennis Shaw led the North and was brilliant, but the defensive unit let him down and cost him the first loss in which we have seen him involved.

Later in the day we watched the Los Angeles Rams power over the Dallas Cowboys 31-0 in the Playoff Bowl Game.

Toward evening Saturday we watched the Washington Huskies crush the Yale Bulldogs 84-7 in a televised basketball game.

In the evening we had company and so were unable to get to the Sports Arena to see the San Diego Gulls smear the Salt Lake City Golden Eagles 7-1.

The evening wasn't a total loss, however, as we all watched the powerful UCLA basketball team humble Notre Dame 108-77 in a game telecast from Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles.

Earlier in the evening we watched Wide World of Sports and saw the Ladies Alpine Skiing by Tele-Star from Germany and the Harlem Magicians versus the Wrens in a basketball game from Madison Square Garden in New York.

Sunday it was back to the TV screen to watch the Minnesota Vikings crush the Cleveland Browns 27-7.

Sunday afternoon we watched the AFL Championship game between the Oakland Raiders and the Kansas City Chiefs from Oakland.

Kansas City won the game 17-7 to set up the Super Bowl Game next weekend between the Chiefs and the Vikings.

This game pointed up the unfairness of the playoff system. Oakland and Kansas City tangled four times this season. The Chiefs FINALLY managed to win one game and move into the Super Bowl.

Sunday evening we put the cap on a beautiful extended weekend by going to the Sports Arena to see the San Diego Rockets against the Chicago Bulls.

The Rockets put together one of their best efforts of the season to break a five game losing streak 140-121.

The "we" so often referred to is my patient and long suffering wife. So girls take warning. If you are not absolutely sold on all sports, never marry a sports writer.

Marathon

Entries Vary

Early entries for the Sixth Annual Mission Bay Marathon, co-sponsored by Mission Bay Associates and the San Diego Track and Field Association, include the current National A.A.U. Champion Tom Heinonen, 72-year old Fred Grace, and 10-year old David Hargus.

The event is scheduled to get underway at 8 a.m. January 10, at Belmont Park.

Heinonen, a member of the San Diego Track Club is 24 years old and is a Navy Electronics Technician stationed at San North Island. He is current National A.A.U. champion as a result of his 2 hr., 24 min., 32 sec. performance at Culver City, California on December 7.

He won over 450 other runners in that event. Heinonen also holds the third fastest marathon time run by an American in 1968 with the excellent time of 2:18:30.

Among those expected to contend with Heinonen in the Mission Bay event are fellow S.D.T.C. member and last year's winner, Tom Bache who holds the course record of 2:30:32, and Fred Hutchinson and Chuck Smead, two teenagers who have dominated most of the 1969 long distance races in the Los Angeles area.

Grace, who is 72-years young, completed the 26 mile 385 yard course in 3:53:23 in last summer's Masters Marathon at Mission Bay. He also runs 20 miles daily just to keep in shape.

10-year old David Hargus of San Diego ran last year's Mission Bay Marathon in 3:41:29, and hopes to do much better in this year's event.

Wrestling Rescheduled

Injuries to wrestlers was the reason given for the cancellation of the Return of Championship Wrestling Monday night at the Coliseum at 15th and E streets in San Diego.

The card has been rescheduled for Jan. 12 at 8 p.m. — barring unforeseen injuries. The Coliseum has been remodeled.

Frogs are amphibians.

Entries Due

For Tourney

Entry blanks and invitations have been sent out to all sectors of San Diego County for the 15th annual March of Dimes Tennis Tournament to be held at the Kona Kai Club in San Diego on Jan. 16, 17, 18, 24 and 25.

Men's singles is strictly invitational, since the field must be paired down to four over the first weekend to set up quarter-finals on Jan. 24 against four seed players from Los Angeles. All other divisions are open to anyone.

Players to be invited from the north are Roy Barth and Haroon Rahim of UCLA and the USC pair of Joaquin Loyola-Mayo and Steve Avoyer, according to Tournament co-chairman Ben Press.

The famous blarney stone of Ireland is located at Blarney Castle in Cork County.

Reading Clinic Opens School

The El Camino Reading Clinic and Psychological Center, 10 years in San Diego County, and the oldest established clinic and service center of its kind, announces the opening of its all-day therapy school.

The clinic-school will serve slow learners and children with perceptually, motor and neurological handicaps, from kindergarten through the 8th grade. Most significant in the school's organization will be class size which will range from 24 in a group with one full time teacher.

Of particular interest to dependents of active or retired military personnel is that under provisions of military medical care, qualified children may receive government aid in meeting the cost of training for either the all-day school or for the after school reading clinic program.

Detailed information can be secured by calling El Camino Reading Clinic Office at 532-8062.

Signal Lights Set Year Early At Mt. Miguel-Sweetwater Rd.

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors on Monday approved the transfer of $24,000 so that traffic signal lights can be installed at the intersection of Sweetwater rd. and Blossom line in Spring Valley.

County Engineer Howard M. Taylor said the heavy volume of turning movements and pedestrian traffic at Mt. Miguel High School caused him to advance the installation request from the normal priority which would have been in the next fiscal year.

Taylor said there is also a need for a light to provide more gaps in the traffic on the road to allow cars to enter from side streets.

Bids will be called in June.

Revenue Goes Up

SACRAMENTO — Total revenues of all State governmental cost funds were $265,135,305 greater than total expenditures during Fiscal Year 1968-69, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy said in announcing publication of his Annual Report.

The 394-page comprehensive summary of the State's financial condition as of last June 30 shows that revenues of all governmental cost funds totaled $5,453,795,262 while total expenditures were $5,188,659,957.

PacTel To Spend $740 Million

Pacific Telephone last week announced it plans to spend a record $740 million to support the most ambitious construction program in the firm's 63-year history.

Of the total, $342 million will be spent to expand and improve service in Southern California.

California's unrelenting growth and the demand for new services are the chief reasons for the unprecedented outlay, said company president Jerome W. Hull.

The program will pay for more than 70 new buildings and additions to 171 existing buildings; more than 4 million miles of telephone cable, and literally millions of other items and projects throughout the state.

landers' 6-10 1/2 leader, Walton still managed to reach his norms, 31 points and 22 rebounds, but the defense upset his passing.

The Highlanders, other than Walton, turned cold, not getting the open pass. The team had been averaging well over 80 points per game.

The Monarchs were playing without their regular center, Dan Heien, out with the flu. In his place was a tall junior, 6-5 Al Bunting, with eight minutes of experience.

Helix jumped off to a 9-2 lead and finished the first quarter ahead by 20-16. They led, 34-28 at the half and increased it to 51-44 at three quarters.

The Highlanders pushed ahead by 10 in the fourth period as Monarchs Gary Earle and Jim Bristol fouled out. With the score 67-55, the Monarchs began a rush with three straight baskets before time ran out.

Forward Bill Blander led the upset-minded Monarchs with 23 points, Bob Papciak had 12 and Bristol 11.

Guard Mike Dupree helped Helix with 14 points, while forward Mike Honz added 11.

In another Tuesday afternoon league opener, El Capitán bombed Mt. Miguel, 72-58. John Slater had 20 points for the Matadors.

Drugs, Rabies, Air '69 Health Problems

The year 1969 has left San Diego County with its most alarming public health problems in decades — drug abuse.

Births rose in a continued upswing.

The first human case of rabies to be reported in the county in 26 years resulted in the death of a 3-year-old boy.

Another major problem has been the unchecked spread of gonorrhea which has steadily increased for the past five years.

The county had its first air pollution alert.

These public health highlights of the year were reported by the County of San Diego Department of Public Health.

Dr. J. B. Askew, director of public health, said drug abuse, particularly among young people, is "completely out of hand."

Sixty-seven cases of serum hepatitis were reported in the county in 1969. Sixty-one of them were related to drug abuse. Twenty-four cases, all related to drug abuse, occurred among teenagers.

The year brought the county nine laboratory confirmed cases of rabies in animals and one human death in 3-year-old Tommy Buchmann, who was bitten by a rabid bobcat while playing at his Lakeside home.

The year ended with the county's first air pollution control alert to be called since air pollution control regulations restricting open burning went into effect on July 1, 1969. All open burning was suspended from midnight Dec. 30 until midnight Dec. 31.

The upswing in births in San Diego County continued in 1969. With the records still coming in, Dr. Askew said it looks as though 24,000 births will be recorded for the year, up from 22,114 in 1968.

In a summary of the Health Department's alcoholism program, Dr. Askew said 1,280 alcoholics were under treatment at the Alcoholism Clinic during the year, and 533 cases were closed. Of these, 315 were successfully rehabilitated, Dr. Askew said. In 1968, of 1,226 patients under treatment, 763 cases were closed and 181 were successfully rehabilitated.

Reported resident cases of tuberculosis in San Diego County rose from 173 in 1968 to 208 in 1969.

Dr. Askew said immunization had given San Diego County the following record in communicable disease.

The year 1969 was the county's seventeenth year in a row without a case of diphtheria reported in any county resident, even though outbreaks of the disease were reported in other parts of the nation.

It was the county's thirteenth year without smallpox, the third in a row with no polio.

The number of reported cases of measles (rubella) and whooping cough in the county were at an all-time low. Forty-six cases of rubella were reported, 13 of whooping cough. One death from tetanus occurred in a man who had not been immunized.

Hogs may easily be trained to do tricks and are said to be more intelligent than cows, sheep and some dogs.

Aztecs Begin Loop Campaign

The aura of newness encompassing the 1969-70 San Diego State basketball team will become slightly brighter this Friday as another new element comes about.

What's happening is the Aztecs first case outing in the new Pacific Coast Athletic Association as they host Cal State Long Beach at 8:05 p.m. in Peterson Gym.

State joins CSLB along with Cal State Los Angeles, Fresno State, San Jose State and the University of California at Santa Barbara in the new conference. The University of the Pacific, the seventh PCAA member, is not competing this season due to commitments to the West Coast Athletic Conference.

The Aztecs will be hoping to get the 10 game PCAA schedule off on the right foot as the conference champion has been assured an at-large berth in the NCAA Far West region.

Long Beach will be bringing a highly-talented quintet to town for the encounter. In fact, one might argue, an Aztec head coach, Dick Davis does, that the 49ers will be coming in with seven or eight excellent players rather than five.

CSLB is 9-3 on the season, having walloped visiting Oklahoma City 112-80 in its latest outing, and sports a well-rounded scoring attack. Leading the way are 6-8 1/2 center George Trapp who's hitting for 14.5 points a game and 6-2 sophomore Billy Jankans at 14.1.

Shaw Hot At Stanford

San Diego State's quarterback Dennis Shaw received yet another honor when he was named the Most Valuable Offensive Player in the annual East-West Shrine game.

Shaw, who led the nation in total offense and was an Honorable Mention All-American, hit on 19 of 29 passes for 321 yards and one touchdown as he helped guide the West to a 15-0 triumph.

Playing before a record crowd of 73,000 in Stanford Stadium in Palo Alto, Shaw was named the West's starting signalcaller and responded, in fine fashion. His 19 completions were just three short of the record set by Sonny Gibbs of TCU in 1961.

A continuing report on undergrounding electric lines in the San Diego area.

The cost of conversion to underground electric lines

Did you know that it costs about three times as much to build an underground electric distribution system as a new conventional overhead line? And, conversion of overhead lines to underground in established areas costs even more? In fact, the cost to convert our present overhead system to underground is about $500 million.

Each year since 1967, when the State Public Utilities Commission approved new rules for undergrounding, we have expanded our conversion program. We have budgeted $2,125,000 for conversion projects in 1970. In addition, an estimated $1,950,000 in unspent funds from the 1968 and 1969 allocations will be carried over for municipalities having active conversion programs, raising the total available for 1970 to approximately $4,075,000. These funds have been allocated to cities and unincorporated areas based on the number of customers. We work closely with local governments to determine the priority of undergrounding projects.

During 1968 and

1969, ten conversion

projects were completed. Five more are currently under construction, and several others will start soon. We expect to continue converting overhead lines to underground as fast as the availability of men, material, and money will permit. Undergrounding has a high priority at the San Diego Gas & Electric Company.
